DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 13, 20-24, 27 and 28 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected group, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on June 24, 2004.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102/103

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1, 6, 8-12 and 25 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over U.S. 6,096,809 (Lorcks et al) as per reasons of record.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. Claims 5, 7, 14-19 and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. 6,096,809 (Lorcks et al) further in view of U.S. 5,817,721 (Warzelhan et al) as per reasons of record.

Art Unit: 1711

6. Claims 1, 5-12, 14-19, 25 and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. 5,883,199 (McCarthy et al) in view of U.S. 5,817,721 (Warzelhan et al) as per reasons of record.

Double Patenting

7. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the “right to exclude” granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

8. Claims 1, 5-12, 14-19, 25 and 26 are provisionally rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims of copending Application No. 11/103,999. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because they contain overlapping subject matter.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments filed January 9, 2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicants' claims, as presently recited, do not exclude the starch component disclosed by Lorcks et al. Even though patentees' starch may no longer read on applicants' optional "starch that is substantially free" of plasticizers, the present claims are "comprising" claims and, as such, do not exclude the presence of other ingredients, starch or otherwise. In fact, claim 28 is noted of interest in its inclusion of a soft starch component separate and distinct from the stiff starch that is "substantially free" of plasticizers.

In McCarthy et al, besides a purely aliphatic polyester, a copolyester of an aliphatic polyester and (up to 50%) an aromatic polyester can be used "so long as the copolyester...imparts ductility to polylactic acid-based polymers" (with emphasis, column 6, lines 6-8). The polyester imparts ductility to the polylactic acid polymer and its presence decreases the modulus and increases the elongation of the polylactic acid blends (column 4, lines 55-60). Note the characterization of the exemplified polyesters as soft polymers (column 9, lines 32-33). Accordingly, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art and within the purview of McCarthy et al to employ a "soft" aliphatic-aromatic copolyester in place of the exemplified soft aliphatic polyesters in keeping with patentees' desirability of imparting ductility to the polylactic acid blends. Thus, contrary to applicants' contention, McCarthy et al do teach and suggest the desirability of selecting an aliphatic-aromatic copolyester having a ratio of aliphatic and aromatic groups that results in a copolyester that is "soft" and blending that "soft" copolyester with the stiff polylactic acid.

Conclusion

10. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

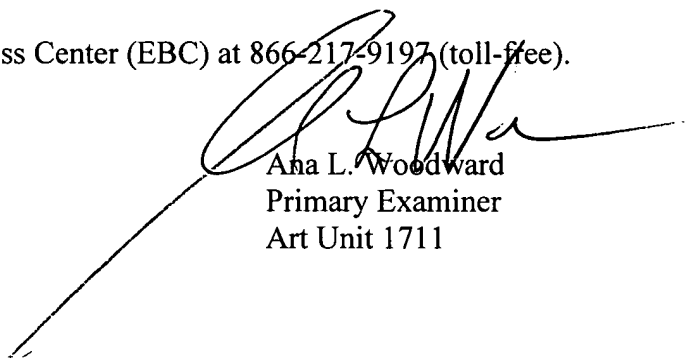

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
